Announcing Quintuplets!
Kristin A. Pelletier Wins Five in Telly Awards Competition

Out of ten-thousand-plus entries from all fifty states and five continents, Kristin A. Pelletier of Jones & Rister, Inc. and Blue Truck Media, Inc. earned five awards in the 28th Annual Telly Awards (2007).

The winning programming was produced for an unnamed pharmaceutical client who markets prescription medications for the treatment of schizophrenia. Five titles were entered into the 2007 competition and each program won an award. A broadcast program designed to raise awareness about medication non-adherence among patients with mental illness, took the highest honor earning a Silver Statuette. Four additional titles earned Bronze Statuettes.

The productions were executed under the guidance of writer and director, Kristin A. Pelletier, “The productions were a collaborative effort among our entire Jones & Rister production team. Producing quality programming becomes almost effortless when you have a group of passionate individuals working together toward a cause. We hope our contribution helps to raise awareness, and end stigma related to mental illness.”

Over the span of her career, Mrs. Pelletier has written and directed over five-hundred video programs including: broadcast and multi-media productions, live and interactive distance training programs, commercials, educational and industrial videos, and documentaries. Today, she focuses her creative energies on providing innovative and inspiring screenplays, television shows, and books. For more information, please visit www.bluetruck.tv.
